

High Style, Small Space

Auraptor consulted Hill and Partners to design a high impact exhibit that would distinguish their product among its competitors as the best in automotive customer relationship management. Hill and Partners built a 10x10 custom exhibit. The exhibit was a clean and simple design using the vibrant blue and orange colors in the Auraptor logo. The members of the Auraptor team were able to demo their product live at the NADA show from a laptop computer slaved to a 42 inch plasma monitor.

NADA was held in San Francisco's Moscone Center and was attended by over 24,000 industry professionals. Seven hundred companies showcased new products at the show where Auraptor maximized function in a small area, drawing excited prospects into critical demonstration opportunities. Auraptor was very happy working with Hill and Partners and will be using the exhibit again next year as well as possibly expanding in a larger space.
